BOYS STRIKE.

A number of youths employed at the B. & O. Pre Bottling Works struck yesterday for an increase in wages. They have been receiving $6 a week and now demand $7.50. Officials at the plant were in no way intimidated, as other boys have been employed, nor has there been any disorder. The strikers were congregated today on the common east of the works, but there was no disturbance. Attempts were made to picket the premises and stop boys who had refused to strike from entering the works. Officer Arrington this morning accompanied his son to the works, but, so far, no overt act on the part of the strikers has been reported.

AN UNFOUNDED REPORT.

A telephone message was received in this city today from Washington stating that G. Ron Booth, an employee at the Alexandria Steam Laundry, had been killed on the streets of that city, his body having been found at an early hour this morning. The message was laconic, and before any particulars could be received the person who transmitted the intelligence hung up the receiver.

Early last night Booth and William Padgett, employed by W. H. May & Son, left this city for Washington. Neither reported for work this morning, and after the report of Booth's death had been received there was considerable anxiety manifested on the part of his relatives and friends.

Attempts were made to obtain further information, and about ten o'clock a message from Washington was received to the effect that Booth had a few minutes previous been at the Twelfth street station of the electric railway and that he and Padgett were about to leave for this city.

According to all the information that could be obtained, the two men left Alexandria for Washington early last night, it being supposed that Booth was to visit a young lady. He, however, failed to call on her, and about two o'clock this morning a telephone message it was said had been received from the young woman by a person in this city which was to the effect that she had just talked to Booth over the telephone and that he was at that time at the electric railway station.

The first message was received this morning at the office of the Alexandria Steam Laundry. It stated that the body of a young man named Gordon Booth, with Alexandria Steam Laundry tickets in his pockets, had been found on the outskirts of Washington.

Several residents of this city saw Booth at the electric station in Washington about 10 o'clock this morning. Neither Booth nor Padgett have reported for work today.

It has been impossible to ascertain who sent the message announcing Booth's death. The police department of Washington knew nothing concerning the finding of a body, nor did a detective from that city who was here today.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

Next Sunday evening at 7:30 the choir of St. Paul's Church will sing Hammond's "Messiah Victorious." In the preface to this work, Rev. James M. Farrer, D. D., who selected the words, writes as follows:

"The best of all things and joyful anthems of Easter bring a personal message to every faithful follower of the risen Saviour. Each year, on the anniversary of His resurrection, many Christians, especially those who have been bereaved, resemble in God's house to rejoice in their assurance of immortality, and in the prayer and promise of song to pledge a renewed consecration to the crucified and risen Christ. Easter brings feelings of joy to every heart, but to those who mourn it bears a deeper meaning, a peaceful trust and resignation that carries us into close fellowship with Christ and our loved ones who are with Him. The words of this cantata have been selected with the view of emphasizing the direct message of the resurrection to each of us, and of awakening a fuller realization of this wonderful mystery of an open tomb by a fallen cross."

"For the discipline of sorrow,
For the angel of distress,
For the unseen hands that drew us
Into greater blessedness;
For the lips that close in silence,
For the strong hands of God in prayer,
For the strength of the heart that endures,
But sinks not in despair;
For the penitence and patience
That are meek beneath the rod,
And for the body's resurrection,
We give Thee Thanks, O God!"

TO DECIDE ON SATURDAY.

January 1, of this year, the carpenters of this city, according to a mandate of their superior officers, notified the employing carpenters that, on April 1, they would demand $3.50 a day, instead of $3, the prevailing wages for a day of 8 hours. The time limit has expired and tomorrow would have been the time for the notice to take effect, but the workmen have seen fit to give the employers until Saturday night. Messrs. Knight, Rodgers, De Vaughan, Devere and Winant, representing the contractors met last Tuesday and decided that they would not, nor could not, meet the demands and the contractors are now in the predicament of the increase and that they are not now, with all the risk, making five per cent on any investment.

RUNAWAYS.

Egghorn and Assistant Postmaster L. Donald Atchison, who will assume their new duties tomorrow morning. The retiring and new officials will meet at the office tonight and go over the accounts together. It is understood that no other changes in the office will be made as all the other employees hold office under the civil service law.

Mr. Burroughs entered the postoffice as a clerk about the time of the close of the civil war in 1865 and remained there till 1866 when he removed to near Manassas where he engaged in farming till 1870, when he was offered a position in the Alexandria postoffice. He accepted and served in the office most of the time as assistant postmaster until Mr. O. C. Carlin was appointed postmaster during Mr. Cleveland's second term in 1893. During the following four years Mr. Burroughs engaged in business with Mr. Barron's furniture dealer. When Mr. J. L. Cropper succeeded Mr. Carlin, Mr. Burroughs returned to the postoffice and was again appointed assistant postmaster in which position he served until four years ago when he was appointed postmaster. This position he has filled acceptably to his large circle of friends in Alexandria who wish him unbounded success in the future.

It is set forth that it is for the interest of certain trust funds, created by the will of Mrs. Harriet O. W. Parker, that the property should be sold at the price mentioned. In view of the fact that the power of the trustee to sell during the lifetime of Peter Parker is in doubt, the court is asked to direct a sale and decree that the proceeds therefrom be held by the trustee.
